

HIGH FLIGHT CENTER

A PLACE OF ENRICHMENT

Dear _____,

You are invited to get on board as our plans for the new High Flight Center at Air Force Village II/Blue Skies of Texas West take off!

For decades, Air Force Village has provided a community for officers of the armed forces from around the world that was rich with camaraderie and the shared common bond of the military experience. Since the opening of Air Force Village II (now Blue Skies of Texas West), the population has doubled, and residents are staying longer. In addition, the community is now embracing a wide range of retired seniors, including those from civilian careers.

Residents are carrying the legacy forward with the addition of the High Flight Center at Air Force Village II/Blue Skies of Texas West, a facility that is much needed and well deserved by our residents, and we are asking for your financial support.

The new center will be a central hub for all residents to share and celebrate life. Key to the expansion are faith and freedom to worship traditions that have long been cherished by the community.

The positive impact of music on seniors has been well documented, and the High Flight Center will allow us to continue to host concerts featuring professional musicians and high-quality choral groups, with refined acoustics, a professional grade audio/visual system and scheduling flexibility.

The Residents' High Flight Center Committee is leading the way in planning and fundraising for the center with a goal of $6 million, of which $2 million already has been raised. Organizers have ground breaking for the new center scheduled for Fall 2020.

Your tax-deductible donation to the High Flight Center is the perfect way to commemorate birthdays, anniversaries, holidays and the other life milestones of your relatives and loved ones who are residents.

Please see the enclosed brochure for details on the High Flight Center. You can make your donation at HighFlightCenter.org or by making a check payable to Air Force Villages Charitable Foundation - HFC Fund and mail to:

The Residents' High Flight Center Committee
5100 John D. Ryan Blvd. #718
San Antonio, TX 78245

Your donation will make you part of the legacy of a new facility that will serve residents and guests for years to come.

Sincerely,
